To Whom It May Concern:

I wish to compliment Herb Kranzee on his superb presentation on Successful Strategies for Teachers that he presented to my teaching staff. The staff said it was superior and they really enjoyed the active participation piece. The school librarian, who is new to the building but has been in the district, stated it was a great way to start the year. She really enjoyed the day.

Mr. Kranzee offered refreshing and humorous ways to get acquainted with others to work in groups. The novel ways to build relationships and capacity was interesting and could be repeated in their classrooms.

I highly recommend Mr. Kranzee and his presentation to other school districts and administrators. It is a very worthwhile and highly interesting presentation.

Educationally yours,
